

Civil Defence Personal Kits

In order to ensure we are prepared for an emergency during school time, each child in the school has a personal emergency kit that is kept with their classroom teacher. These kits are updated yearly and transferred to their next class at the end of each year.

The emergency kits also include vital information such as allergies, health needs and the name of caregivers that are authorised to pick your child up from school in the event that you are unable.

This kit should contain: -

- A can of food – this needs to be something that your child will eat and can be eaten straight out of the can without cooking
- Some wrapped long life lollies (eg. Barley sugars)
- sealed peanut free snacks – muesli/fruit bars.
- Something for your child to play with (crayons, playing cards, knuckle bones)

Each kit needs to be sealed in an ice-cream container and labelled with your child's name, emergency contact details and names of those who have permission to pick your child up in the event of an emergency (if you are unable).
